

Sea Scouting

Information of primary interest to Sea Scout Groups and Units

NECKERCHIEF KNOT

1. Preparation: Roll as usual, and ideally iron flat.

2. Fold the left hand (as worn) end over twice, about 8cm each fold.

3. Take the other end over, and fold right round.

4. Tuck the end in around the back.

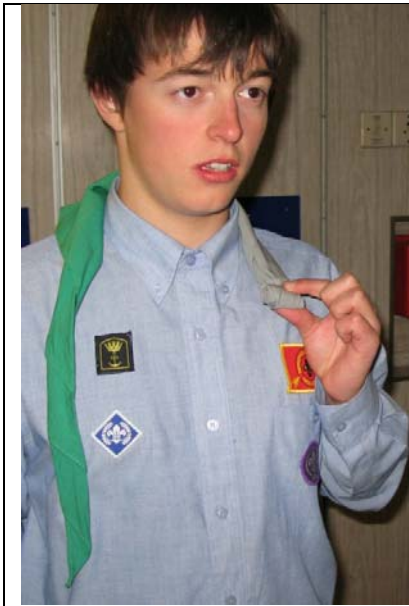

5. The finished product.

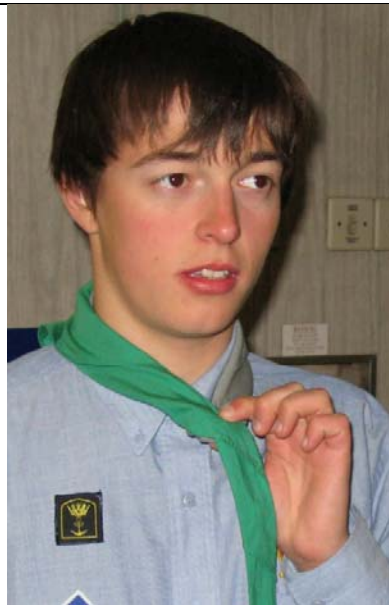

Many Sea Scout Troops and Units use a knot rather than a woggle on their neckerchieves. One less item to lose, and very smart if tied neatly.

The diagrams show how to tie a suitable knot. You may need to use the larger size of neckerchief for this knot.

On the next page a variation, where the end is simply rolled up at the start, rather than folded, and no bight hangs below the knot.

1. Roll up the left hand end.

2. Place the other end over it

3. Wrap round

5. Wrap round again

6. Tuck the end in

7. Quickly tied by the wearer